How to put together your guidebook:

- Print out this file (A4, two-sided)
- Cut out all the places marked
- Organize the pages
- Fold the pages in half
- Staple them together
- Your guide is ready, now go for a walk

How to use your guidebook:

Choose a place to start your walk. It can be anywhere, anytime, any city.

Start walking.

Follow the instructions

When you decide you found the thing you were looking for, that means you did.

There is no right or wrong walk
No correct path or trajectory.
Your walk can be as long or short as you want.
Staging Absence: walks in an absent city

Marcia Nemer
"If you only walk long enough,"

"Oh, you're sure to do that," said the Cat.

"...and that was an explanation."

"...So long as I get somewhere."

"Oh, I don't much care where—" said Alice, "...as long as I get to it."

"That depends a good deal on where you want to get to," said the Cat.

"...as I think."

Would you tell me please which way I ought to walk from here?"
the atmosphere

Look up and down
   and stop on the left

pieces

staircase
  In a few minutes you will be at the
    the
    time she wrote

    letters

    old
    streets

Now
How's through the city
time

five minutes
time

Notice centuries

Enter the seventeenth-century
Here you can visit

a surrealist

of

rooftops.

Return until you reach

on the left the entrance

written a letter

here now
Start in the morning and an adventure of the world. Stop for a few seconds here. Today is history. Long days near the gardens take a look along the streets. Now, lover than ever.
You

and

some places

of treasured

this

note

move

underground

beauty

nostalgia

Take a moment

dhre the ocean

and discover

you reach

this point

Retracing your steps

along this street
center

beyond the

structure

Long

scene

building

the

At the end

where

a quiet evening

A door on the right

walk

stop on the right

find

colors.

the gardens

after the

silence

At the end

where

a quiet evening

A door on the right

walk

Turn right and until

What
Walk in the garden.

Vista along the path leading to your left.

You will find yourself walking under the trees.

Ice cream stands.

Around the trees.

After resting up.

The roofs of the houses from the ground floor.
After turning left
wander
You will be lured by

When you reach the corner
for history.

now

the eighteenth century.