References
Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency [n.d.] International Architecture Competition, Port Elizabeth. No place of publication.
UN Habitat (2003) Handbook on best practiced security of tenure and access to land, Nairobi: Shelter and Sustainable Human Settlement Development Division

Illustrations
All illustrations are produced by the authors with exception for;
Figure 8, page 18, Incremental housing, NMMM (2007). Used with permission from Schalk Potgieter, Assistant Manager, Housing and Land Department, NMMM
Figure 9, page 19, Sustainable Community Unit, NMMM (2007). Used with permission from Schalk Potgieter, Assistant Manager, Housing and Land Department, NMMM
Figure 10, page 21, Njoli Square (2005). Used with permission from Graeme Eckley, NOH Architects.
Figure 60, page 54, Elevation of walk-ups, Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency [n.d.].Used with permission from Albrecht Herholdt, editor.
Figure 61, page 54, Ground floor plan for walk-ups, Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency [n.d.]. Used with permission from Albrecht Herholdt, editor.
Figure 66, page 64, Illustration of a dense housing area, Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency [n.d.]. Used with permission from Albrecht Herholdt, editor.

Maps
All maps are produced by the authors with exception for;
Map 4, page 20, The Khulani Bus Corridor, NMMM (2006d). Used with permission from Schalk Potgieter, Assistant Manager, Housing and Land Department, NMMM

Photos
All photographs are taken by the authors with exception for;
All aerial photographs, NMMM (2004). Used with permission from Schalk Potgieter, Assistant Manager, Housing and Land Department, NMMM
Figure 11, page 25, Njoli Street, recently upgraded, The Matrix (2006). Used with permission from Hedwig Crooijmans, The Matrix.
Figure 58. page 48, Landmark. the power plant, Nina Andersson (2006). Used with permission from the photographer.